Fact Sheet

Our Mission

The Wilkes University Writing Center exists to provide students with free academic support services that complement writing across the disciplines, thereby promoting academic excellence.

The Writing Center is principally dedicated to supporting student writers as they navigate the various stages of the writing process. Through collaborative peer learning, the Writing Center facilitates students' growth as writers and critical thinkers, preparing them for lifelong learning, graduate studies, and a variety of professional careers.

Our Philosophy

The archetype of the tree with roots represents both the recursive nature of the writing process and the ethos/philosophy of the Writing Center itself. Like a planted seed, our ideas take root through the ongoing and interconnected processes of planning, writing, and revision. The public representation of our ideas (like the leaves and branches of a noble tree) is a manifestation of the internal intellectual and psychological growth that writers undergo through the writing process. Writing Center consultants act as guides to assist writers as they not only improve their writing but also learn the strategies, skills, and perspectives needed to grow as writers.

Writing Center Services

PREWRITING
Writing Center consultants will discuss assignments with students, assisting them as they develop their ideas and begin organizing their essays.

WRITING
Writing Center consultants will offer guidance on essay drafts as they are being written, including offering feedback on thesis statements, paragraph development, organization, citation, and mechanics.

REVISION
Writing Center consultants will assist students as they respond to instructors' comments and help them develop a solid revision strategy.

RESEARCH
Writing Center consultants will advise students on effective research techniques, including the use of the library databases and catalog.
